TOPMOUNT STAINLESS STEEL KITCHEN SINK

Installation & Care Instructions & Cutout Template

PART LIST

- Cutout Template
- Bottom Grid
- Cutting Board
- Colander
- Mounting Hardware
- Strainer
- Dish Drying Roll-Up Rack

BEFORE YOU START PREPARATION

- We recommend that all topmount sinks be installed by an experienced, professional installer.
- IMPORTANT: The cabinet must be installed, secured, plumb, and level. Failure of this step can cause damage to your sink.
- Our topmount sinks should only be installed above a solid, flat countertop.
- Make sure that you have all necessary parts by checking the part list.
- We are not responsible for sink or countertop damage due to poor planning or inspect the sink prior to installation to make sure that it is in good condition.
- Metal edges may be sharp - Extreme care should be taken when handling.
- Follow all local plumbing and building codes.

SUGGESTED MAINTENANCE

- Rinse thoroughly after each use. Clean your sink on regular basis with warm soapy water. Rinse the sink after using cleaning products.
- Wipe the sink surface with a dry cloth, and each use to prevent mineral deposit from building upon the surface of the sink. Water quality can affect the appearance of your sink. Down the drain after each use will prevent discoloration or unsightly film from developing on the finish.
- Always use our sink bottom grid to protect your sink's finish.
- Do not use abrasive cleaning products, sanding discs or steel wool pads on the surface of the sink. Do not leave sharp objects on the surface of the sink for an extended period of time. Do not use abrasive cleaning products, sanding discs or steel wool pads on the surface of the sink. Steel wool or metal scouring pads should never be used to clean your sink as they will leave a residue or scratch the surface of the sink.
- Note: ANY stainless steel sink can show rust if steel wool pads are used on it. Steel wool or metal scouring pads should never be used to clean your sink as they will leave a residue or scratch the surface of the sink. If it happens, you can scrub the rusty spot properly by a nylon scrubber.
- Don't trap the sink across the satin finish lines. Scouring across the satin finish lines can damage the original sink finish.
- Don't allow soap or other household cleaners to dry on the surface of the sink. Most common acidic acids found in these products will damage the surface of the sink.
- Don't use bleach or chlorine bleach and water in the sink. Chlorides, which are found in most soaps, detergents, bleaches, and cleaners, are very aggressive to stainless steel. If left in the sink for an extended period of time, they will damage the surface of the sink.
- Don't leave wet sponges, cloths, or cleaning pads on the sink. This can lead to surface rust.
- Don't use a steel wool pad to clean your sink. If a more abrasive product is needed, use a fine grit steel wool pad. Do not use a wire brush to clean your sink. Steel wool pads and wire brushes have a tendency to break apart and small particles of steel can become embedded in the sink surface. These steel particles will rust and will give the appearance that the sink itself is rusting.
